Issued February 1935

PRECISION!

"We have a Seth Thomas clock in our family that has been keeping time for 25 - 50 - 100 years."

A remark frequently overheard, but what makes this longer life, this finer accuracy of Seth Thomas clocks possible?

The answer, of course, is precision. Cutting teeth in wheels so that they will mesh perfectly — burnishing pinions and sockets to a smooth fit — more closely set tolerances at vital points — inspections at every step — all add to cost, but there is no other way to insure consistent accuracy and long life in a clock, whether electric or key-wound.
